

Jayme Bean is an independent author who enjoys writing stories that speak both to the wonders of the world and the highs and lows of the human condition. Inspired by her travels around the world and her career as a zookeeper, she writes using her experiences, lending a unique viewpoint to her stories. Jayme calls the sunny state of Florida home and shares her life with her husband, son, and four cats.

Dr. Julia Morrow and her graduate students, David and Marisol, embark on a research trip to explore a remote section of the Amazon rainforest. When their trails seem to change direction at will and they find themselves lost and without communication, the trio worry they may be in for more than just the latest scientific discovery. After strange circumstances divide the group, they're left deciding which is more important—finding out why the rainforest seems like it's alive or getting back home in one piece. The deeper they travel into the jungle in search of answers, the more they realize that some places are meant to remain untouched.

"As the characters find their way through the jungle in search of their lost friends with danger around every corner, I found myself unable to put it down, but also terrified to continue."

Blake R. Wolfe, The Crystalline Chronicles

"Shades of Crichton and Garland, with a hint of Jumanji on steroids, this is a deeply enjoyable book, and David is an anxious hero I'd follow anywhere."

Rory Michaelson, Lesser Known Monsters
